Facts About Advertising.

In an eastern city a few days ago there was held a meeting under the auspices of a number of women's clubs to consider the subject of newspaper advertising. There were a few men present who were interested in the subject in a direct way and questions were asked and answered in a way to bring out many interesting facts relative to advertising and its effect upon the public.

One of the first questions to come up was, "do women read advertisements?" There were varied answers, but every woman present stated that she always read the announcements of her favorite stores, and the majority of them said they usually read the attractive advertisements in all the publications they perused. They were then asked if they believed the advertisements, and the answer was that they believed those appearing in responsible publications and backed by responsible houses. Other things in connection with advertising were discussed and the meeting showed a general and keen interest in the subject.

Such a discussion would be of interest at any time, and it is especially so at the approach of the holiday season, when all are anxious to know what the merchants are offering in the way of substantial and the assortments of lighter goods that are so largely used as Christmas gifts. It is now that the live merchant is fully awake to his opportunity, and for the next few weeks the advertising columns will be the most interesting part of the paper to many readers. The varied offerings of the merchants will be set forth in the most attractive manner and there will be profit as well as pleasure in reading them.

That the great majority of advertisements are reliable is a well known fact. Especially is this true of those appearing in the home papers. Merchants know that honesty is the best policy, in advertising as in their dealings, and few are so foolhardy as to make announcements in the papers which they are not ready to back up at their counters.

There is no longer any question about people reading advertisements. They do read them and are strongly influenced by them, and wise business men govern themselves accordingly. A judicious use of advertising space is one of the best investments at all times, and during the holiday period it is utterly indispensable if those desiring the public patronage are not to be lost in the shuffle.

Investigation of the explosion of a powder mill is apt to be uphill work, and it will certainly be so in the case of the great explosion at Wilmington, Del., as every man who might know anything of the cause was killed. Nevertheless these are particularly ticklish times for powder mills and munitions factories, and the authorities are warranted in doing their best to locate the cause of this awful explosion, costing thirty lives and a very heavy property loss.

The West for big things every time. It is reported that an Indiana man has built a cider cistern with a storage capacity of 185 barrels, from which the juice is drawn with a pump such as is commonly used at cisterns and wells. Unless he and his boys and hired men are unduly indulgent he ought to have enough to "stan" 'em through hayin'.

Another grain of comfort has been snatched from the bald headed man. It has been demonstrated that he is not immune from insanity, "baldies" being as common in the asylum as men with bushy heads of hair. What wonderful discoveries "science" is making in these latter days.

If it is true, as reported, that England fears that Mr. Ford and his pacifists may induce her soldiers to desert the trenches, it is the greatest display of weakness she has made since the beginning of the war, and for many generations before.

The San Francisco exposition comes to an end with a net profit of more than $2,000,000, a fact very gratifying to the management and the country, and one that will prove highly stimulating to exposition promoters in the future.

United States marines when on shore in uniform may carry "swagger sticks," but in some cities the police may not even carry night sticks. Truly wonderful is "regulation" in this land of the free and home of the brave.

What a terrible thing it would be if a German submarine should make a "mistake" in connection with Mr. Ford's peace expedition. But of course nothing of that sort is anticipated or likely to happen.

CURRENT OPINION

America Needs a Definite International Policy.

If Americans do not wish to witness such a state of affairs here as Europeans are now facing they must do something active to prevent it. By their indifference to the problems confronting us we are merely heading for the catastrophe.

Military preparedness without preparedness of policy will avail us nothing. If we are going to have a great army and navy we should first have a definite international policy. This is what most of the European nations have lacked. Great Britain's policy with reference to the German problem only became certain twenty-four hours before war was declared.

If our present attitude is persisted in it will some day land this country, however great its military force, in disaster, in possibly long and exhausting wars.

All such things may be avoided by real preparedness, preparedness on the side of policy.—By Norman Angell, Author.

ATTENDING OLDER BOYS' MEETING

Delegates From Local Y. M. C. A. at Hanover With 350 Other Delegates.

Norman E. Rand, Justin French, Theodore Butler, Arthur Davis, Thomas Craig, Frank Peterson, Wallace Rand, and John Pickering are the delegates from the Y. M. C. A. to the ninth annual conference of older New Hampshire Boys being held at Hanover as guests of Dartmouth College.

The delegates from all over the state to the number of 350 arrived in Hanover on Friday afternoon and the conference opened with an address by Rev. R. C. Falcener, pastor of the college church on "The Unreliable Bottle."

In the evening the delegates were given a dinner by the trustees of the college and by V. Landman of Wolfboro presided as toastmaster. President Nichols delivered an address of welcome and L. H. Merrow of Center Ossipee, chairman of the state executive committee of the Y. M. C. A. also spoke. He was followed by L. R. Jordan, 16 president of the Dartmouth Christian Association and Glenn H. Blood of Hanover.

The address of the evening was by James A. Whitmore of New York city, who delivered a forceful speech on "The Cost of Real Living." Music for the evening was furnished by the college orchestra and quartet.

Today and Sunday will be devoted mainly to meetings part of which will be given up to open discussion of practical problems in the religious life of boys. Saturday afternoon will be given over to recreation and visits to points of interest around the campus.

PRESIDENT'S TOAST ON CLOSING FAIR

Read at the Closing Ceremonies This Noon of the World's Greatest Fair.

In all the capitals of the world thousands will join today in an international toast written by President Woodrow Wilson, as a sentiment for the closing at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

Letters from all parts of the country expressing sentiments in accord with those of the President have reached the exposition.

The ceremonies of the closing day are the most impressive in the history of the exposition and will center around the toast proposed by the President. The exercises were held in the Court of the Universe and at noon the President's toast was read.

THE MAN'S CHRISTMAS GIFT

It is not such a hard matter for a woman to choose a suitable gift for a man as some imagine.

Men's tastes run pretty much in grooves—men's goods are well standardized.

Certain brands carry their hallmark of character and quality to the masculine mind, because made familiar by advertising.

The advertising in this paper will be particularly helpful in guiding your steps in the right direction.

And a good time to reach a settlement of this little holiday problem is NOW.

Ident's toast was read at which time in every center of the world the toast will be simultaneously observed by representatives of the foreign nations participating in the exposition, and by hundreds of organizations in all parts of the world.

The Panama-Pacific International Exposition, upon which President Wilson's toast centers, will, upon its close today, have been open a period of 233 days, longer than any other exposition, and more than eighteen million persons will have passed through its turnstiles.

Forty-one foreign nations have participated. It will close with a profit in excess of one and one-half millions of dollars; 927 congresses and conventions, more than twice the number convening at any other exposition in America and Europe, have met under its auspices.

President Wilson's toast was as follows:

"Washington, D. C., Dec. 1, 1915.

"The Panama-Pacific International Exposition:

"Which, in its conception and successful accomplishment gave striking evidence of the practical genius and artistic taste of America;

"Which in its interesting and unusual exhibits afforded impressive illustration of the development of the arts of peace; and

"Which in its motive and object was eloquent of the new spirit which is to unite East and West and make all the world partners in the common enterprises of progress and humanity.

"WOODROW WILSON,

"President of the United States."

LUMBERMEN ARE UNDER ARREST

Violation of Federal Contract Labor Law in Northern Woods.

Colebrook, Dec. 3.—Twelve lumbermen, all French Canadians, who have been cutting lumber for wood pulp for the contractors employed by the Connecticut River Lumber company, were arrested today by United States Marshal Charles J. O'Neil for alleged violation of the federal contract labor law.

Marshal O'Neil returned to the woods later in the day with the intention, he said, of making further arrests. Between 2,000 and 3,000 men have been lumbering about Connecticut lake since spring.

According to federal officials the American Realty company of Portland contracted last spring with the Connecticut River Lumber company which owns timber land in this section, for 75,000 cords of wood pulp.

The lumber company let out the work to a number of contractors, and it is alleged that Canadian lumbermen crossed the border and assisted in the operations.

The work of hauling the logs to the streams was nearly completed when federal warrants were obtained charging that the lumbermen came over the border under contract.

The 12 men under arrest have been placed in jail in West Stewartstown, near here.

The Connecticut River Lumber company is owned by Hornblower and Weeks, stock brokers, and the engineering firm of Stone and Webster.

A party of 10 immigration officials, accompanied by deputy sheriffs, remained in the woods during the night searching for other men against whom complaints had been made. Some of the camps where it was expected the men would be found are 15 miles from any settlement. As it was feared that word of the officers' search might precede them, they sent some of their number to points on the Canadian line to check possible attempts at escape in that direction.

The number of arrests expected was said to be large. According to local officials an investigation of the labor conditions in the camps has been conducted by the immigration service inspectors since last July and detectives have been placed among men at work in the woods to gain information.

The men under arrest and others who are sought are understood to be jobbers or foremen in charge of small gangs.

ANOTHER GERMAN IMPLICATED IN PLOTS

San Francisco Investigation Brings Baron Von Brenken Into Limelight.

(Special to The Herald)

San Francisco, Dec. 4.—Baron George Wilhelm Von Brenken, attaché of the German consulate at San Francisco, was today brought into the Federal investigation of the nation-wide conspiracy plot. Information before the grand jury by Louis K. Smith, an accomplice of Charles Crowley on charges of conspiracy, caused U. S. Marshal Holloman, and the head of the bureau to question the Baron at length as to his relation with the German consulate here. It was later reported that the Baron had been ordered to appear before the U. S. district attorney for further questioning.

BOSTON LETTER

Statistics of the commerce of the Port of Boston for the month of November show an increase in the ship arrivals from foreign countries, but a decrease in passenger traffic. There arrived during the month from foreign countries, including those from overseas ports, Canada and the tropics, 67 steamers, 23 schooners, and one ship. Of the total arrivals, 60 were British, 20 American, five Norwegian, five Swedish, three Danish, one Dutch, one Russian and one Mexican. The immigration has fallen off tremendously on account of the European war and passenger traffic is practically at a standstill.

"We do not realize that we do not possess one friend in the world," declared T. Lathrop Stoddard, speaking before the Harvard Club on "Preparedness." "Before the war there was a negative feeling. Today we can say there is hardly a nation in the world that is not potentially our enemy. There is no doubt that each nation will come out of the war lean, hungry and anxious to retrieve itself as a nation. And on the western horizon there shines a great luscious melon. We have absorbed their gold, stolen their trade, and we are unable to repel a third-class power. I do not see what is to prevent our being carved up."

That a clubhouse may be a proper place in which to bring up a child, was, in effect, the ruling of Judge Morton in the equity session of the Superior court, in giving to Maurice L. Davis, steward of the Colonial Club, Dorchester, the custody of his six-year old son, Edward. Mrs. Davis, who was granted a divorce last March on her claim of cruel and abusive treatment, pleaded to be given the custody of the boy. She declared that a clubhouse was not a proper place for a child to live. Judge Morton ruled otherwise.

The Methodist ministers of Boston have protested to Governor Walsh against the action of the licensing board permitting dancing where drinking of intoxicating liquor is going on. These resolutions were passed: "That action of the Licensing Board is offensive, inconsistent, and is fraught with greatest peril to the youth of the city. That we call upon the Licensing Board to revoke their permission to hold dances where drinking is licensed. That we earnestly urge His Excellency Governor Walsh to take such action as shall prevent the continuance of this dangerous policy."

AGED WOMAN KILLED AT LACONIA

Mrs. John P. Thompson, 60 years of age, was struck by a train at the Laconia station of the Boston & Maine railroad at Laconia at 8:45 o'clock Friday morning, and instantly killed.

Mrs. Thompson lived a half-mile from the station, which formerly was known as East Tilton, and Friday morning left her home for a walk. At the station she strolled the length of the platform, and then started to cross the tracks, when, according to witnesses of her death, she appeared to become confused and suddenly turned back. At that instant a south-bound train was approaching and the engine struck her squarely, killing her outright and throwing the body a considerable distance.

MAY REMOVE BODIES OF SPANISH PRISONERS

Inquiry Made of Local Undertaker as to Cost of the Undertaking.

An inquiry of a local undertaker as to the probable cost of taking up the bones of the Spanish war prisoners buried at the navy yard, has led to the impression that the bodies are to be removed to Spain.

The inquiry was apparently from a private source, either from the Spanish legation of the consulate, and no other information was given. The matter has not been called to the attention of the officials at the navy yard, and apparently has not been taken up with the navy department, who's permission would of course be necessary before the bodies could be removed.

There are 31 bodies of prisoners who died at Camp Long when the prisoners were confined there during the Spanish war. They are buried on the eastern side of Seely's Island, near the naval prison, and the graves have always been looked after by the prisoners at the naval prison. There has been talk before of having the bodies removed and taken back to Spain for interment, but so far as is known, the Spanish government has never taken any action.

The inquiry calls for metallic caskets for each body.

FORD PARTY ALL FIXED FOR PASSPORTS

Ready to Sail This Afternoon—Ford Will Visit Warring Countries as Citizen.

(Special to The Herald)

New York, Dec. 4.—Passports for Henry Ford and members of his peace party arrived from Washington early today and then everything was in readiness for the departure of the expedition on the liner, Oscar II. The last decorations of the peace ship were finished this forenoon, as the baggage of the guests began to arrive at the dock. The interior of the ship has been turned into a bower of bloom, flowers, ferns and palms are everywhere. Mr. Ford was happy today when he saw the sun shining and he said, "The Lord is with us." He said that all of the passports were for the neutral countries and that was all his guests wanted, but he would go to the countries where he has factories, in spite of the passports, and shall visit them as an American citizen and look into his business interest. Five of the delegates of the party will be left permanently at The Hague. Mr. Ford received a telegram from Luther Burbank, the plant wizard, today, who had been invited to join the expedition, in which he declined the invitation but highly praised Mr. Ford for the motive of the trip.

OBSERVING THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. William Hudson Were Married by Rev. A. J. Patterson.

Today Mr. and Mrs. William Hudson of High street are quietly celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage which was performed in this city on December 4, 1865 by Rev. Adoniran J. Patterson, pastor of the Universalist church.

Mr. Hudson was born at Mt. Desert, Me., the son of John and Abigail Hudson. At the age of 14 he began to follow the sea and in 1851 he enlisted in the navy at New York on the receiving ship North Carolina. He was then transferred to the frigate Wabash and after a short time to the U. S. S. Niagara, making a cruise to the Mediterranean in the latter vessel. During the Civil war he served on the U. S. S. St. Lawrence, being the greater portion of the time on blockade duty off Charleston in Pensacola Bay and at Galveston.

He was discharged from the St. Lawrence in 1863 at the Portsmouth navy yard. He was placed on the retired list in 1876, after 20 years of service, with the rank of acting boatswain.

For 20 years following he worked at the navy yard as a rigger and at the present time is one of the few old time riggers, that were numerous in this city and vicinity in the days when sailing vessels were built on the Piscataqua river.

He has been connected with the fire department for a great many years and is at present engineer of Moses H. Goodrich steamer No. 4. His service in the fire department began on January, 1865 when he joined Dearborn steamer, No. 1, as a hoseman. After serving two years as a fireman of the steamer he was made engineer and served in that capacity for six years. After being out of the department for a short time he was made engineer of Sagamore steamer, which position he held up to the time of being appointed engineer of Moses H. Goodrich steamer which he still holds.

He is affiliated with New Hampshire Lodge No. 17, I. O. O. F.

MORE IMPORTANT THAN MATERIAL

Rear Admiral Fiske's Views on Naval Preparedness Brings Personnel Into New Scheme.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, U. S. N., discusses naval preparedness in the December issue of The North American Review, holding that preparedness of personnel is more important than preparedness of material. His argument is that if the personnel is prepared it is safe to assume that the material will see to it that the material is kept in a proper state of preparedness. And the preparedness, he states, must pervade all grades from the commander in chief of the fleet to the humblest man in the crew.

Aero Squad Going to Manila
The Second Aero Squadron, which will be stationed at Manila, will be composed of six junior military aviators and thirty-five mechanics, according to an announcement yesterday by Captain Arthur E. Cowan, U. S. A., head of the Signal Corps Aviation Squadron at North Island. The squadron will sail for the Philippines, Jan. 5. Captain William Lay Patterson will be in command. The other aviators are Redondo Sutton, Leslie McMill, Shapier Fitzgerald, Douglas Netherwood and Earl Canady. The army fliers will act as spotters for the gunners in the new coast defenses at Corregidor Island. Four hydroaeroplanes will be taken to Manila.

Goodier Testimony Sent to Washington
The transcript of testimony in the court martial case of Lieutenant Colonel Lewis F. Goodier, judge advocate of the western department of the United States Army, who was accused of conduct prejudicial to military discipline in that he improperly advised junior officers to "prefer charges against their commanding officer, Captain Arthur S. Cowan," was sent to Washington yesterday. It was announced, at army headquarters at San Francisco, that the Goodier trial ended Nov. 18. Colonel Hirst Testifies in Own Behalf Colonel Robert Hirst, Third Infantry, U. S. A., testified in his own behalf at his court-martial at Madison barracks, New York, yesterday. Colonel Hirst admitted keeping Private Michael Greene, who the officer said had assaulted him, tied to a stake and hand cuffed. He declared this action was necessary because of the character of the soldier and threats he is said to have made.

Puget Sound Yard to Make Shells
Manufacture of naval projectiles will be begun at the Puget Sound navy yard March 1, 1916. The first order calls for 2500 six-inch and 10,000 three-inch shells. Forgings for the shells are being made in Chicago.

W. E. DOWDELL WITHDRAWS NAME FROM CAUCUS

Late last evening Councilman-at-large, William E. Dowdell of Miller avenue, endorsed by the Republican City Committee for renomination, announced that he would withdraw his name from the caucus to be held this evening as he felt that he did not care to serve in the council another year.

When asked by a representative of this paper if he cared to state his reasons for not wanting to serve again, Mr. Dowdell said: "I have served in the council two years and I have had enough. I think that it is time that I stepped down and allowed some younger man to have the place." Beyond this Mr. Dowdell had nothing to say.

Mr. Dowdell has been a member of the city government for two years and has always had the respect of the voters for having the "courage of his convictions." If he agreed with others or not, that he could be renominated is not questioned by many of the voters and his re-election was almost assured.

GOOD NEWS

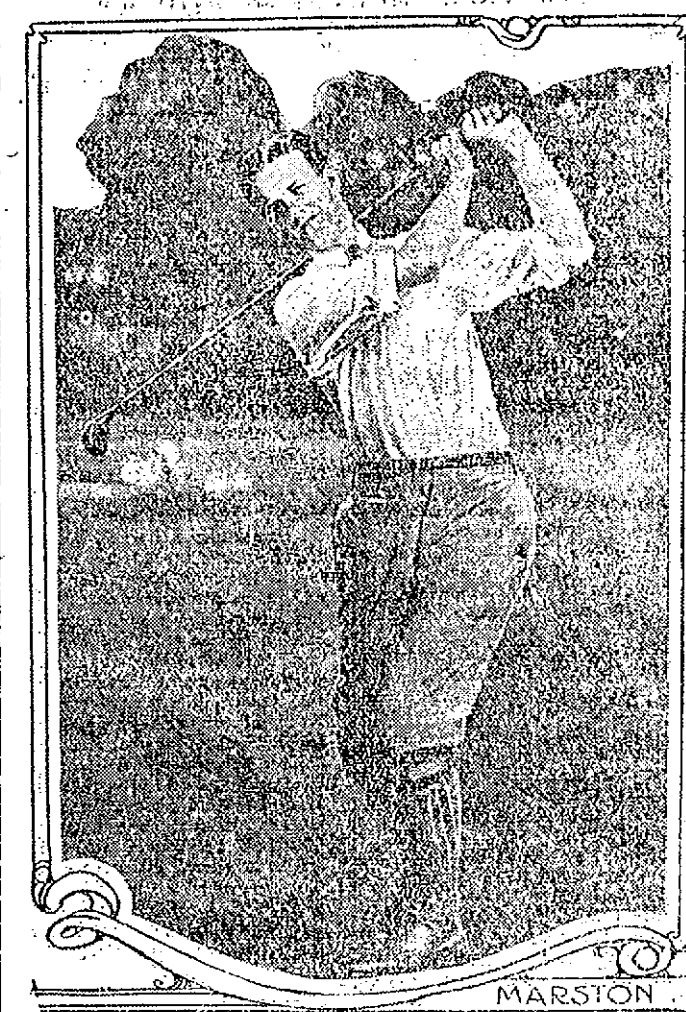

Many Portsmouth Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the many back sufferers in Portsmouth are glad to learn where relief may be found. Many a lame, weak and aching back is had no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experiences with this tested remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

Mrs. Olive Winn, 106 Myrtle Ave., Portsmouth, says: "My back and kidneys gave me a great deal of trouble. The pains centered in the small of my back running into my head and causing dizziness and headache. My kidneys were too frequent in action and the kidney secretions caused annoyance. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Phillips' Pharmacy, and they soon gave me excellent relief and corrected the action of my kidneys. I use Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally, as a preventive."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Winn had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

MAX MARSTON, NEW JERSEY CHAMPION, RANKS WITH LEADERS ON 1915 PERFORMANCE

Newark, N. J., Dec. 4.—Who is the best amateur golfer of the year—Jerry Travers, who won the open; Bob Gardner who won the amateur championship, or Max Marston who won the most invitation tournaments during the golfing season? Marston the New Jersey champion has won an enviable place in golf in the season just closed. When the handicap committee decides on the relative merits of the amateurs next spring, Marston will not be in far from the scratch mark. He won six important tournaments in 1915 in ending the championship of New Jersey. He was also runner-up at two other big tournaments and was semi-finalist in the amateur championship of Detroit. His latest achievement was the winning of the Thanksgiving tournament at Lakewood. Only three weeks before, he triumphed at Atlantic City. It was in the amateur championship at Detroit that Marston probably made his best showing. Having the championship almost in his grasp, he missed a short eighteen inch putt that would have given him the match with Gardner and put him in the final. Marston has proved himself an ideal match player. He does not care about breaking records in qualifying rounds, being content to save his energy for his opponents later on.

HARRY LAUDER A WONDERFUL ENTERTAINER

When one man can hold the attention of an audience for one hour and a quarter, as Harry Lauder did at the Colonial Theatre last evening, he is a wonderful entertainer. Mr. Lauder not only held his audience for that length of time after it had been interested all the evening by a wonderful vaudeville show, but after his last number "more" was asked for, Mr. Lauder was working to a large and appreciative audience and from the time his own numbers started until the final curtain his songs and witty remarks and jokes created a continuous storm of applause and laughter. His reception here last evening was without exception one of the heartiest and most sincere tributes ever paid an actor on the local boards.

And all the applause and appreciation shown for the work of Mr. Lauder was fully deserved. Harry Lauder's first number, "Till Stick to Rosie, if Rosie sticks to Me" sung in the impersonation of a Scotch Cavalryman in the British army was met with a hearty reception. This was followed by "Doughy, The Baker," "Same as His Father Did Before Him," "I Love My Jean," and "A Wee Doonch-An-Doris."

Before singing his last number Mr. Lauder, in his usual humorous manner, explained the meaning of the song the parting drink after an evening of "conviviality," and informed the audience that it was expected to join with him in the chorus, those not doing so laying themselves open to "suspicion." It is safe to say that the old familiar Scotch number was sung with a will. Mr. Lauder had his audience with him.

All of Harry Lauder's songs were Scotch with one exception, demanded by a member of the audience. This of course was an old Irish song, "Sarny, from Killarney." It was sung with all of the success usual to his numbers.

Mr. Lauder carries his own orchestra and has as his director Charles Frank of Boston. Mr. Frank has been with Mr. Lauder as his musical director on the road since his first season in Boston when they met at the theatre in which they were playing. Mr. Frank was at the time director of the theatre orchestra and his work so pleased Mr. Lauder that he immediately attached him. That his work is still satisfactory may be believed when it is known that on his present tour his first business after reaching the United States was to secure "Charlie" Frank as his director.

The performance last evening opened with a wonderful vaudeville program, and included Albert Donnelly in his famous shadowgraphs, Dave Genaro and Isabelle Jason in three great dancing creations: "The Al Golem company," a marvelous troupe of Persian acrobats, twenty people presenting ten spectacular numbers; and "Laetitia" with two of the best trained cockatoos this city has ever seen. The final number was the Scottish Highlander's Band presenting native martial airs.

The entire performance was under the control of William Morris of New York who made the scale of prices and refused to lower them as the presentation of Mr. Lauder is one of the most expensive shows playing in the country at the present time. But at even the seemingly high prices charged Mr. Lauder's performance was worth it and he will remain long in the memory of the audience as a performer of the highest merit.

BOUGHT AND PAID FOR

A Remarkable Play at the Portsmouth Theatre Monday Matinee and Night

There are two sisters, Fanny and Virginia, who have been reduced to poverty by the death of their imprudent father. Fanny, plump and of natural but uneducated intelligence, takes up her dead mother's trade as a milliner, while Virginia, naturally artistic and yearning for culture, is forced to find employment as a telephone operator. Fanny is engaged to marry James Gilley, a shipping clerk into Virginia's life comes Robert Stafford, a self made man and millionaire. In the opening act he has asked Fanny James and Virginia to his sumptuously appointed apartment for a dinner party and at the end of it he has asked Virginia to marry him. "I don't know that I love you," he tells her, "but I love means wanting to be tender to you, wanting you always near me and a desire to protect you, then I love you."

Virginia's acceptance furnishes the thought for the title. She is "bought and paid for." After their marriage Virginia learns she loves Stafford when he is himself. He shares with most of his brothers a belief that he "can drink wisely" and that he knows just when to stop. He drinks often and much and when he feels home to her and begs for her kisses and forces his embraces upon her, Virginia finds him revolting. "It isn't love," she cries, "why it isn't even honest passion."

Stafford, drunk, forces his attentions on Virginia. At first he tries to smile when he bids her; she even suffers his embraces, begging all the while to let her go. He orders champagne and drives to desperation. Virginia spurns him. He reminds her that she is a bargain bought and paid for and taunts her with her position before she married him. When she would escape his arms as he comes reeling across to her, she rushes into her own room and locks the door. Stafford forces an entrance by madly smashing the panel in. This is in the second act—great splendid scene that positively thrills and pulsates with life.

In the third act, she begs him to reform and threatens to leave him unless he promises to do so. He refuses and the wife, handling back the jewels and the wedding ring, starts out in the cold world. The curtain falls on the husband ringing up a detective agency. "No, no," he says irritably, "I want you to protect some one."

The last act shows her living in humble circumstances with her equally reduced sister and brother-in-law. She is only a poor shop girl now, working for $7.00 a week and hanging on a strap in the subway twice daily. The brother-in-law conceives an idea to bring them together. He succeeds. They really love each other and all is forgiven. Everybody likes to see a poor girl marry a rich man.

It's a toss up whether "Bought and Paid For" is a comedy drama or a drama comedy. After all, it's six to one, and a half a dozen of the other. There are just as many big, hearty laughs as there are those moments when you sit poised on the edge of the seat, living over with the actors every emotion portrayed.

"Bought and Paid For" will be the initial offering of "Gladys Clark" and the Gladys Clark Co., on next Monday afternoon and evening, Dec. 6th, when they open their week's engagement at the Portsmouth Theatre.

WILSON MAY ACT TO HEAL PARTY SENATE BREACH

EXPECTED TO INTERVENE TO HALT FAMILY FEUDS OVER THE CLOTURE MATTER.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Intervention of President Wilson to heal the growing breach between Democratic senators over the re-election of Senator Clarke of Arkansas as president pro tempore and over cloture proposals, was imminent today. Fear that the family feuds may develop into open warfare gave rise to reports today that the President would urge the factions to get together. The Senate Democrats resumed their caucus with deadlocks on both questions.

If the caucus fails to agree on a cloture plan, Senator Owen and other advocates served warning today they would carry the fight to the Senate floor, expecting assistance from Progressive Republican senators. Hope of adopting a binding pledge on all Democrats was practically abandoned. Cloture advocates today confined their efforts to securing merely an endorsement of the rule. Opponents predicted it would be impossible to get the necessary two-thirds vote to make it a party question. Anticloture senators also threatened to bolt the caucus if an attempt was made to bind them.

In the fight over president pro tempore Senator O'Gorman, leading the fight for Clarke, predicted his election Senator Reed was equally confident of Senator Pomeroy's election. The vote is close. Clarke is said to have 27 of the 56 Democrats pledged and Pomeroy 23, with the decision resting with absentees. Twenty-nine is necessary to elect.

That the President would not take sides in the Clarke-Pomeroy fight was authoritatively stated today, but administration leaders made an effort to end the party squabble, now attaining serious proportions. Election of Senator Lewis of Illinois as a compromise candidate was among suggestions offered.

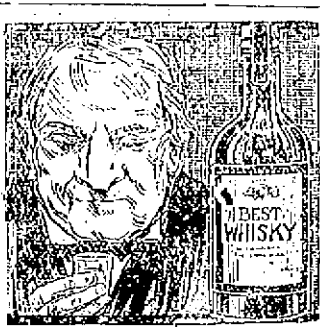

A move was also reported under way to enlist Republican support for Clarke when the fight reaches the Senate, if the caucus fails to agree.

LOCKE RESIGNED

Mr. Arthur Locke who has for the past twelve years ably and successfully managed the York Harbor Brick Company has severed his connection with the company.

While a resident of Portsmouth Mr. Locke has spent his days with us, and his ability, business methods and square dealings with many of our townpeople has won him a place of high esteem among them and his leaving will be a source of regret. Having a little community all his own of several families and a score of children he has endeavored himself to them and his advice and counsel in all family affairs will be greatly missed. Of his employees, few fail to return each summer and many have been with the Company this twelve years, while others now in the city of Portsmouth and elsewhere have the greatest respect and regard for him.—York Transcript.

BUYS LACONIA VILLA AS UTOPIA FOR NEEDY AGED

DR. GENTRY OF CHICAGO PLANS BIG ESTABLISHMENT NEAR LAKE WINNISQUAM

Laconia, N. H., Dec. 3.—A real estate transfer of interest was the purchase by Dr. William Daniel Gentry of Chicago of the Villa de L'Etan Hotel property on the shore of Lake Winnisquam, just outside the city. Dr. Gentry intends to establish a home for aged persons, orphan children and invalids. He also plans to erect cottages for aged persons who desire a permanent home. The institution will be on philanthropic lines, and there will be no charge for medical attendance for those in need. Any one in want will be provided room and board, but those who have money will be expected to pay the cost for their food, lights and fuel. Dr. Gentry is 50 years old, and has practiced medicine 25 years. He is the author of 27 volumes of "Materia Medica" and six volumes of the "Concordance Repertory of Homoeopathic Materia," containing from $50 to $150 pages each, and requiring 17 years in compiling. Dr. Gentry is also editor of a monthly magazine called "The Word." He was a professor of materia medica and physiology in the National Homoeopathic Medical College of Chicago for a number of years, and gave up practice when appointed superintendent of the National Sanatorium for the Cure of Tuberculosis at Las Vegas, N. M. The people of Las Vegas commissioned Dr. Gentry to go to Boston and begin a lecture course of one year visiting every city and town in New England and the Atlantic seaboard states.

BREAK A CHILD'S COLD BY GIVING SYRUP OF FIGS

Cleanses the little liver and bowels and they get well quick.

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait; give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or get naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

If your child coughs, snuffles and has caught cold or is feverish or has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs" to evacuate the bowels no difference what other treatment is given.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "Fruit Laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

SCHOOL CENSUS

SHOWS LARGE

GAIN IN PUPILS

Total of 2655, Including Those Over 16 and Tuition Pupils.

The census report of the children in this city who are attending school in the entire city, including Parochial and private is 2655. The numbers of scholars between the ages of 5 and 16 is 2385. There are 173 scholars over 16 years in the High school and 78 tuition scholars, 75 of whom are in the High school.

This is a material increase over last year, and since the census was taken there has been a considerable increase in attendance, on an average of six or seven a week.

While there is sufficient room in the schools for the scholars at present, an increase this year, like last, will mean that in another year a new school building will be necessary.

Today this city has the average school attendance of most cities of 15,000 inhabitants.

KILLED A DOG

Is Charge Preferred Against Henry Dirks of Lovell St.

David H. Williams who resides on Austin street, on Saturday reported to the police that Henry Dirks of Love 2 street had entered his yard on Friday noon and with a shot-gun killed a valuable hound dog. At the time, Mr. Williams' little girl was in the yard playing with the canine. A warrant was issued for Dirks' arrest charging him with firing his arms in the compact part of the city without authority.

It is said that the cause of the shooting of the dog by Dirks was due to his having bitten his child, but this is denied by the owner of the animal. The affair will be aired in the municipal court on Monday.

The quarterly banquet of the Mechanics Fire Society was held at the Rockingham on Friday evening and proved one of the most enjoyable in the history of this veteran organization.

The dinner that was served under the direction of Manager Dudley and his assistants was all that could be desired. At the business meeting these officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Ernest L. Guptill; clerk, Albert R. Jenkins; wardens, William R. Martin, Benjamin F. Webster, Morris C. Foye.
